

Holiday work, preparing for A level.

1. Take 30-50+ photos over the holiday.

In the UK or somewhere else, of people, places, objects...

I want to see 3 different themes;

these could be descriptive themes like, people, places, urban, landscape etc or broader more abstract like, reflection, contrast, time, colour, space, beauty, decay.

Photos can be saved into a folder on your phone, to be emailed to yourself once you have a barking abbey email address, or printed out.

2. Visit at least two galleries, museums or exhibitions and create 2 double pages of notes/ photos/ leaflets/ tickets relevant to your interests.

This work is due to be completed by your first art/graphics lesson.

If you are more interested in design than art (although artists have influenced designers for 100s of years), you can produce your double pages on posters you see around you, advertising boards on the tube, at bus stops, on social media, album covers, book covers. Shop signage, product packaging and advertising.
